5.01 ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN STANDARDS

The Declaration and Protective Covenants Article XII, Section 1 state building plans shall be approved in writing by the ACC as to harmony of external design and location in relation to surrounding structures and topography.

This language is interpreted to mean that designs should conform architecturally to the rustic, woodland setting of Bella Vista Village and is best accomplished by the following:

- A. Single-family Residential Buildings. Rough textures on treated wood siding, decks, railings or textured vinyl or Hardie siding materials comparable in appearance to wood are preferred. Masonry such as brick with rough texture or natural native stone, when used on walls, foundations, planters or fireplaces should be an earth color. Exposed concrete foundations are to be painted to match the main color of the house. The primary residential structure shall be no less than the minimum square footage defined by the subdivision plat. A covered parking structure (e.g., garage or carport) shall be required for all single-family residences.
- B. Roofs. Roofing materials may be asphalt, shake shingles, or metal panels (H-Loc or standing seam only) in earth tone colors listed below in 5.01C2b--Colors. White, light, bright, or blue roof colors are not permitted. If reroofing or repairs are needed for an existing roof, an ACC permit shall be required. The repairs must match the existing roofing material and color, but if the materials and colors do not match, the entire roof shall be replaced. Temporary roof coverings such as tarps can be green, camouflage, black, or brown. Commercial – The above standards shall also apply to businesses. * The ACC is aware that some businesses have proprietary colors for marketing purposes. This will be taken into consideration and roof color requests for these unique situations will be determined on a case-by-case basis.
- C. Colors.
 1. Painting. Two-tone painting (e.g., main color and trim color) of residences is preferred. Trim colors may be earth red, green, gray, brown, white, or black (trim as defined in chapter 4). One solid color of owner's choice is permitted for the front entry door. It is also required to paint the foundation to match the main color of the residence. When repainting the main residence, all outbuildings/sheds, detached garages, etc. must match the residence as far as main color and trim color.
 2. Colors. Colors should be those that complement the surrounding area and should lend to earth tones so as to blend in with rustic, woodland setting of Bella Vista Village. The theme is best accomplished by use of:

Chapter 5 – Architectural Design Standards

- a. Rough textured treated wood in siding, decks, railings and fences;
- b. Earth colors such as browns, greens, earth reds, and grays, or shades thereof;
- c. Natural native stone or brick of rough texture and earth colors in walls, foundations, planters, and fireplaces;
- d. Stone and/or brick planting areas;
- e. Samples of any proposed color must be submitted for ACC approval.
- f. Colors that are not approved include, but are not limited to the following: white, blue, black, pink, yellow, and any hues that appears like these, and bright colors in general.

Commercial – The above standards shall also apply to businesses. * The ACC is aware that some businesses have proprietary colors for marketing purposes. This will be taken into consideration and color requests for these unique situations will be determined on a case-by-case basis.

NOTE: Colors as defined in this section relate to other items such as tarps, fence colors/stains, deck colors/stains, etc.

- D. Standard Maintenance. Standard maintenance includes, but is not restricted to, re-painting, re-roofing, and replacing deck boards, etc., so long as the size shape, location, or materials are not altered. These items require ACC approval/permit and a fee (Declaration Article XII).

5.02 ADDITIONS TO RESIDENCE

All new materials are to match the existing residence in every way possible, including the type of windows, type and texture of siding, and paint colors. Roofing materials are to match as close as possible. If roof materials cannot be matched, the ACC requires re-roofing the entire residence. Any addition or remodeling must conform to the current codes and ACC Standards. Any exterior work or increase in square footage requires ACC review, permit, and fee. Commercial - The above standards shall also apply to all commercial buildings.

5.03 DOCKS, COVERED BOAT DOCKS, AND BOAT HOUSES

Property owners wanting to construct docks, covered boat docks, or boat houses shall submit a plot plan and scaled drawings to the ACC for a permit (Protective Covenants, Number 9.)

Chapter 5 – Architectural Design Standards

- A. Ownership. Docks on lots of single-family residences are for the owner's use. The property owner is responsible for obtaining required permits. (EFFECTIVE 4/21/2016)k m
- B. Construction. Materials for boat docks, covered boat docks, and boat houses should match the residence; however, a metal roof is permitted as long as it is H-Lock or R-Lock/R-Panel or equivalent construction. Colors must be in compliance as stated in Chapter 5, Section 5.01C2 (Colors). Metal roofing shall have rake trim for a finished look. The ACC will not permit "treated" wood to stand in lake water, but it may be used as decking and railings. Galvanized metal posts may be used in place of wood. Any wood which stands in lake water cannot be "treated" but may be heart of redwood, cypress or cedar. All skirting must be of redwood or cedar. The ACC will not permit barrels or pontoons for flotation. Any Styrofoam must be encapsulated. Roofing specifications for covered boat docks/boat houses were revised and adopted by ACC Board on 3/16/2017.
- C. Docks and Ancillary Buildings on Unimproved Lots. The ACC finds that permit applications for the construction of docks and ancillary buildings, such as a boat house or dockside recreational improvement, on an otherwise unimproved lot, may be considered provided:
1. The dock and ancillary building will be constructed on a lot contiguous to the residence (same owner[s] of both lots).
 2. The owner(s) shall execute an acknowledgement that if the ownership of the two adjoining lots shall cease being common ownership for any reason, the dock or ancillary building located on the lot on which there is no residence shall be removed and the lot restored to its former natural condition in so far as possible at the owners(s) expense. The acknowledgement shall be in the form as required by the ACC (See Covenant 15 in Appendix C).
 3. The owner shall apply for an easement release if permanent improvements encroach into the utility and drainage easement. The utility and drainage easement, as outlined in the plat notes for each subdivision of Bella Vista Village, are reserved by the developer pursuant to Article IV of the Declaration unless specifically designated otherwise on the plat or in the notes. A current survey including lots affected by easement encroachments is required showing the exact location, to scale, of all structures and encroachments. This information will be submitted to the developer (CCI) for review and approval.

5.04 ACCESSORY STRUCTURES

A. Outbuildings.

1. Single Family Detached. Outbuildings or accessory buildings, such as a garage, servants' quarters or guest house, shall be permitted on lots upon which single family detached buildings are occupied by individuals employed on the premises or by guests, and are not occupied otherwise as rental units by employees or non-guest occupants, and provided the ACC shall approve the design, plans, specifications, etc., of such buildings. Additionally, the accessory structure must be in line or behind the front plane of the primary residential structure.
2. Outbuildings on Unimproved Lots. The ACC finds that applications for permits for the construction of outbuildings or accessory buildings, such as a garage, storage building, servant quarters, guest house, or other structure on an otherwise unimproved lot, may be considered, provided:

7.02 REVIEW OF ACC PERMIT APPLICATIONS

The ACC has established the following general rules to guide them in arriving at a decision to approve or disapprove an application for construction.

Chapter 7 - Review Procedures

- A. Aesthetics. All construction should improve and enhance the aesthetics of Bella Vista Village as well as the individual property.
- B. Architectural Style. No specific architectural style will be eliminated from consideration, but there is a strong preference for rustic architectural style in keeping with the image of Bella Vista Village as a high quality rural environment.
- C. Building Materials. New materials and new systems of construction will be given careful and friendly consideration. Insofar as practicable, exterior building materials should be indigenous to the area. For instance, native stone is preferred while stone or brick that is not native should have a color and texture appropriate to the rural motif.
- D. Roof Overhangs and Balconies. In keeping with the rural nature of Bella Vista Village, the ACC suggests every consideration be given to side roof overhangs and outside balconies, and to architectural styles where these will be appropriate.
- E. Site. The ACC will give equal consideration to the overall site as well as the building.
- F. Screening. In the case of lots adjacent to collector streets, the ACC will require that the provisions of Covenant 16 concerning screening easements be observed so that a screen of natural foliage or attractive walls or fences will border each of the non-frontage collector streets to preserve the rural nature of the community in the eye of the through traveler and to screen the traffic of the high-volume traffic streets away from the home site.

7.03 REVIEW PROCEDURES FOR NEW CONSTRUCTION

 6. Dual lot situation. Such applications may require release of easement from CCI to determine if or how much of the easement should be released. The ACC will act as point of contact for this utility and drainage easement release process.
- C. Decision. The ACC Administrator, upon submittal, will either approve or reject the application.
1. Approval. Upon approval, accept the appropriate fees and issue the ACC permit and receipts for fees collected.

Such variances may only be granted, however, when unique circumstances dictate and no variance shall:

- A. Be effective unless in writing;
- B. Be contrary to the restrictions set forth in the body of the Declaration, or;
- C. Prevent the Committee from denying a variance in other circumstances.

7.06 APPEALS

If a proposal is rejected by the ACC Administrator, an applicant is free to request that the ACC Board of Directors reconsider its position, and is encouraged to present new or additional information that might clarify the request or demonstrate its acceptability. No appeal may be made to the City, POA, or CCI (the Developer).

7.07 WAIVERS

The approval of the ACC of any applications for any work done or proposed, or in connection with any other matter requiring the approval and consent of such Committee, shall not be deemed to constitute a waiver of any right to withhold approval or consent as to any similar proposals, plans and specifications, drawings or matters whatever subsequently or additionally submitted for approval or consent.

Chapter 8 - Signage

8.06 CAMPAIGN SIGNS

The ACC has taken a less restrictive sign procedure than is outlined in the Protective Covenants due to the nature of political discourse. Protective Covenant 18, as adopted in the Declaration, limits signs on residential property to temporary advertising for property for sale and construction signs which shall not exceed 5 square feet in area. However, during the political season the ACC, as it has in the past, will take a much less restrictive position regarding the residential signage regulations.

Campaign signs may be posted on residential property following the less restrictive procedure if they meet these guidelines:

1. Signs may not be erected earlier than 60 calendar days prior to Election Day.
2. One sign per candidate per property location is allowed. Maximum number of signs shall be one sign for every 20 feet of street frontage the property borders.
3. Maximum size per sign is 5 square feet.
4. Signs may not be placed on utility poles, street signs, stop signs, POA signs and may not be placed in the road rights-of-way or on Common Property.
